

GERARD
ZES

< 52:02 t/m 28 | 52:30 t/m 56 >

Fire safety at Trudo Updated Regulations

The government has tightened fire safety regulations for residential complexes. These rules are essential for your safety and that of your neighbors. In case of a fire or other emergency, emergency services must have easy access to the building and your home. You also need to be able to evacuate safely without tripping over objects that block escapes or walking routes. Find out what has changed, and what you need to do below.

TRUDO

supporting people

What is no longer allowed?

No items may be placed in hallways, stairwells, entrances or exits. Escape routes must always remain clear. This means you cannot leave bicycles, strollers, mobility scooters, plants, furniture, garbage bags or any other belongings in these areas.

Mobility scooters and strollers

Garbage bags

Furniture and plants

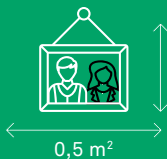

Bicycles

What is still allowed?

You may hang one small frame next to your front door, with a maximum size of 0.5 m². A doormat is also allowed, with a maximum size of 0.5 m². A standard doormat of 60 cm by 40 cm fits within this limit.

Small frame

Doormat

Cozy and safe!

Of course, we want everyone to feel at home. Would you like to make the hallway, entrance or gallery in your building more inviting whilst keeping it fire-safe? You might be able to apply for support from Trudo's Livability Fund. Have a great idea? Email us at wonen@trudo.nl and we'll explore the possibilities together.

Do you live in a homeowners' association complex?

Then you always need permission from the homeowners' association.

More information and questions

Visit trudo.nl/brandveiligheid for more details about the new regulations. If you have any questions, email us at wonen@trudo.nl.

TRUDO

supporting people